

Victim Impact Statement

A victim impact statement gives you a chance to tell the court how you have been affected by a crime. It is up to you to decide if you want to complete one. Contact your local victim services unit if you have any questions about submitting your victim impact statement.

You can include this in your victim impact statement

- ✓ How the crime has affected your mind
- ✓ How the crime has affected your body
- ✓ How the crime has affected you financially
- ✓ Fears for your safety
- ✓ You can draw a picture, write a poem or a letter to include in your statement if it helps you express the impact the crime has had on you
- ✓ You can read your statement in the presence of a support person that you choose and have a picture with you that was taken before the crime

You can't include this in your victim impact statement

- ✓ Anything about the crime or the offender that isn't about how you were harmed
- ✓ Anything that hasn't been proven in court
- ✓ Anything about a crime where the offender wasn't found guilty
- ✓ Anything about anyone who was part of the investigation or prosecution (police, court workers, lawyers)
- ✓ You can't give your opinion about the sentence, unless asked to by the court
- ✓ Any information you don't want the offender or the public to know

Get your victim impact statement to the courthouse

1

- Tell victim services that the you are going to do a victim impact statement

2

- Victim services can help you understand the process and will tell the court to watch for your victim impact statement

3

- Make sure you sign the victim impact statement and keep a copy of it for your records

4

- Put the statement in the blue victim impact statement envelope and seal the envelope

5

- If you want to read or present the statement in court, check the “I would like to present my statement in court” on the outside of the blue envelope

6

- Put the blue lettered envelope in the white envelope that has the court address on it

7

- Deliver the package to the nearest courthouse or mail to the address on the white envelope

REMEMBER

- ✓ The offender could be sentenced at any time
- ✓ Mail your victim impact statement form to the court as soon as you can
- ✓ The victim impact statement is not used to apply for restitution (to get money back from the offender)
- ✓ The offender will be allowed to read or hear the victim impact statement